LANCASTER, GARRARD COUNTY.

A number of our merchants have had their stores fitted up in the latest style.

The city council has fixed the town tax at 25 cents and the fiscal court the county tax at 22 1/2c.

Communion services were held at the Presbyterian church yesterday morning, at which time Dr. Wm. C. Young, of Danville, preached an excellent discourse.

The sanctification meeting which has been in progress at Bryantville, closed last night. While a great deal of interest was manifested, it failed to come up to expectations.

A good many Knights of Pythias from Stanford came over Sunday to attend the funeral of Bro. Wm. F. Henry, Jr., thus exemplifying the friendship existing in this excellent order.

The commissioners of the graded school have closed the deal for the Garrard College property. The price paid is $8,000, which includes all the furniture, pianos and fixtures. The price is considered as very cheap, as the property originally cost $24,000.

Mr. W. F. Henry, Jr., died at his home in the upper end of the county Saturday morning, after a week's illness of pneumonia. He was a popular young man and had many friends, who deeply deplore his death. After funeral services at the Methodist church yesterday afternoon, he was buried in the Lancaster cemetery by the Knights of Pythias, of which order he was a devoted member.

The Stanford Interior Journal says Hon. James B. McCreary is not in favor of the free coinage of silver. When did he change? In the extra session of the Fifty-third Congress in the fall of 1893 he voted for free coinage of silver at 16 to 1 as an amendment to the bill to repeal the Sherman law, and on various occasions during his career in Congress has done likewise. We are inclined to believe the Interior Journal is mistaken.—Owensboro Messenger.

For answer to the above we submit an excerpt from a recent interview with the governor: Anything favoring of the free and unlimited coinage of silver upon our part would shake confidence and credit at home and abroad and be disastrous to the country. It will not do. For 10 years in Congress I was the faithful and consistent friend of silver, and am yet, but I do not want to see it still further depreciated in the eyes of the world. I voted for the coinage of the seigniorage and bullion in the treasury—voted to pass the seigniorage bill over the president's veto. We have about $125,000,000 in bullion and seigniorage, which I am in favor of coining at the rate of any, twenty-five or thirty million per annum. I want to see silver brought back to a solid basis, and it will come if we don't act precipitately. We must wait and act in concert with the other great nations, whose commerce is so closely connected with ours?

The other day Sam Jones was on a train and the inevitable "news butcher" tackled him. He had no idea who he was so he handed the evangelist a copy of his own book, "Quit Your Meanness," saying: "This is a book I sell a good many of and people seem to like it." "Yes," Mr. Jones dryly replied, "I wrote it myself." The "butcher" contemplated him in silence for a few seconds and then rejoicing with withering scorn, "The hell you did!" picked up his books and contemptuously walked off.

Good Old Party—What did you hit him for?

Boy—He's been callin' me names for a week.

Good Old Party—Why didn't you pray for him?

Boy—I did. I prayed that he'd get the small-pox, fall off a roof, or get hit with a brick; but my prayers didn't get answered with a cent, so I jess took do job in me own hands!—Puck.

"But he is so much younger than his wife."

"I know that, but then he will be much older 10 years from now."

"As for that matter, won't she also be much older?"

"My dear sir, she is a woman. Just you wait 10 years and see."—Boston Transcript.

Jailer (to colored murderer)—Good news for you! The Governor has respited you for 30 days.

Colored Murderer—I don't call dat no good news, when I done made my peace en invited all my fren's ter do hangin I wuz due in heaben on Wednesday!

Were a star quenched on high,
For ages would its light,
Sun t'wining downward from the sky,
Shine on our mortal sight.

So when a good man dies,
For years beyond our ken
The light he leaves behind him lies
Upon the paths of men.

LIBERTY, CASEY COUNTY.

Your attractive business manager, E. C. Walton, was here last Monday and has written up all the leading features of the beginning of circuit court now in session and we will therefore not repeat.

From a late letter from Captain Thomas D. Godman, now staying for a short time in Memphis, Tenn., we learn that he has gone into partnership with Mr. Griffith, of Somerset, who lately distinguished himself in the train robbery affair, in the claim agency business. All in this and surrounding counties remember the captain as the energetic clerk for Col. Adams, while a member of Congress. Captain Godman has had a varied experience in life's thrilling drama. He was a soldier for 18 years. Entering the volunteer service in the late unpleasantness at the age of 14, he climbed all the way up from private to the captaincy in the regular army. This is difficult for anyone to do in time of peace, except a West pointer. In the disastrous defeat of Gen. Custer on the Big Horn, he belonged to Benteen's command and helped bury the dead the next day. He is a man of ability and his superior ability, various accomplishments, and untiring industry will enable him to be successful in anything he undertakes. He will soon return and make his headquarters at Washington, D. C.

This has been a busy week and a good crowd in attendance. Among the lawyers from surrounding counties at the latter part of the week we notice P. M. McRoberts and W. A. Tribble, of Stanford, John W. Rawlings, of Parkersville, R. J. Breckinridge, of Danville, and Bryant Stone and J. E. Hays, of Jamestown. Dr. Steele Bailey and A. G. Eastland, of Stanford, were here on yesterday to take W. T. Humphrey through a medical examination in regard to a pension—he being unable to attend the board's meetings at Stanford. A good many civil and misdemeanor cases have been brought before court during the week, some of which were very insignificant. One was for a boy hauling off part of a shuck of fodder which another claimed; another was for a mill hand hauling a load of wood late Sunday evening in cold weather, when he was under the necessity of doing so or let his family suffer. Every sensible man wants laws enforced, but Pharisaical foolishness is not needed at present. The William Allen murder case for the killing of Ben Barlow was called on Wednesday. After many rejections, the following jurymen were selected to try the case and the trial commenced: E. H. Kidd, Milton H. Darham, James Short, James Baldock, W. W. Wells, John E. Lanham, W. E. Lucas, N. McQuerry, D. W. Jones, H. T. Murphy, S. W. Shubanks and T. B. Carman. The evidence closed Friday morning between 10 and 11 and the pleading of counsel commenced. Able arguments were made for the defense by Col. R. J. Breckinridge, Col. Silas Adams and Geo. E. Stone, and for the Commonwealth by John Belden, Bryant Stone and Commonwealth's Attorney J. C. Muncie, and the case submitted to the jury late Friday evening. The jury may be more liable to be hung than the prisoner.

The coldest place in the West is said to be the little town of Halleck, on the Central Pacific Railway. It is built at the very bottom of a valley that extends due north to the Arctic circle, and railroad men say that this valley acts as a great natural windpipe which brings the coldest blasts of the North Pole straight down into the unlucky village. At Tallbotton, Ga., O. S. Crawford, a citizen of Buena Vista, who has long been in the habit of scandalizing his neighbors by blasphemous utterances about God and the Bible, was talking in his usual strain last week about there being no God and defying Him if He did exist, when his house was struck by lightning and set on fire.

Two Dover, O. T., train robbers forced the Rev. Mr. Godfrey to give them their rapier, after which they robbed him of his money and two of his best horses. He gave pursuit, and his body was found riddled with bullets.

Fire destroyed the plant of the American Starch Works at Columbus, Ind., causing a loss of $300,000. The concern was outside the trust, and has been doing a rushing business, employing 300 men.

Two Lives Saved.

Mrs. Phoebe Thomas, of Junction City, Ill., was told by her doctors she had consumption and that there was no hope for her, but two bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery completely cured her and she says it saved her life. Mr. Thos. Rogers, 139 Florida St., San Francisco, suffered from a dreadful cold, approaching consumption, tired without result every thing else then bought one bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery and in two weeks was cured. He is naturally thankful. It is such results of which these are samples, that prove the wonderful efficacy of this medicine in coughs and colds. Free trial bottles at G. L. Penny, Knoxville Drug store. Regular size 50c and $1.

Two hundred years ago last July the Bank of England started on the basis of a government debt to it of 1,000,000 pounds sterling. The debt the government now owes the bank is 11,000,000 pounds, or $55,000,000. That shows how debts do continually grow and grow and grow.

"Coina Financial School" is the name of a recent yellow-backed publication that has obtained a large circulation by reason of its ingenious method of teaching financial untruths. "Coina" is represented as an exceedingly brilliant young financier of the free silver stripe, who delivers public lectures on finance to audiences composed of United States Senators, great bankers and other celebrities. He calls these people by name, puts words in their mouths and then paralyzes them with his wonderful replies. The book is an impudent imposition based on misrepresentation throughout, but has impressed many a sucker.—Harrodsburg Democrat.

To the Democrats of Lincoln County.

I am a candidate to represent Lincoln county in the next Legislature of Kentucky, subject to the action of the Democratic party. I stand squarely upon the National Democratic platform. Endorse Cleveland and Corlies. Am for James B. McCreary for U. S. Senator and in favor of Free Tariffs.

In an interview with a Cincinnati paper correspondent, Gov. McCreary says "I am out for the Senate and nothing else. EVERY FRIDAY.

The old Enoch Arden story, with variations, is ever occurring. The latest comes from Lexington. Sixteen years ago Richard Mackey left his wife and child and became a wanderer. Mrs. Mackey believed him dead and after mourning for him a respectable time, married another fellow. He lived only a few years and was called to his fathers. Again the heroine of this novelette assumed the widow's garb and in due course of time she dropped the weeds for gayer array. Another man looked upon her with loving eyes, and for the third time she surrendered unconditionally and became a bride. After living with him awhile she tired of the bargain and sought surcease in a suit for separation. A decree was obtained and last week Mr. Mackey, the original No. 1, appeared on the scene. Explanations, mutual and satisfactory, were made and accepted, the old love which had slumbered for more than a decade was rekindled into a fiery flame and unlike the Enoch Arden story, nothing stood in the way of a reunion, and they were accordingly reunited, and may be who completes this story be able to write of them in the language of novelists, "and they ever afterward lived happily together."

The Cincinnati Commercial-Gazette, enlarged and improved in every way, is now printed on one of the fastest presses that Hoe & Co. have ever made, and which has just been put in its establishment. It is capable of 48,000 papers per hour of seven, eight or nine pages and not only prints, but cuts, pastes, counts and folds them. In its issue of Thursday, the interesting and wonderful story of how a newspaper is made is told in a graphic way, in an article illustrated by cuts of the huge machine and the men who daily send out one of the best papers in the country. Among the faces we recognize is our old friend, Walter P. Emerson, who has charge of the news department of the Kentucky cities over the river, and who has won the confidence and esteem of the management by his excellent and faithful work. The C-G. is a great paper and continues to grow in grace and perfection.

The Secretary of the Kentucky Press Association, Mr. Loving W. Gaines, announces that the executive committee has decided upon Hopkinsville as the next place of meeting, invitation or no invitation, and changed the date from the first week in June to Sept. 23-25. After the usual routine and other business and pleasure, the members are scheduled to leave Hopkinsville on the 25th for the Atlanta Exposition, an invitation having been officially extended and the railroads tendering the free use of their lines. A visit to Lookout Mountain and a dinner at the celebrated inn there is on the program, which Secretary Gaines has arranged for the fullest enjoyment of the members.

COL. E. POLK JOHNSON, who has been paying taxes on that old head of his till what little there is left of his hair has grown hoar, and has always had his doubts about whether he got value received, writes to Editor Blakely, of the Covington Commonwealth, congratulating him on the prospect of having his head shot off for "writing that piece," as after the performance he will not have to pay poll tax, and there is nothing like reducing expenses these hard times. Blakely somehow or other doesn't appreciate the levity of his friends. It is not much of a joke to have one's head blown off, and a fellow can't afford to lose a head every day as good as Blakely's.

The Good Book tells us that if a child is trained up in the way he should go, he will not depart from it when he gets old. Here are two instances, however, in which either failure to obey the injunction or the promise has made shipwreck and it can not be the latter: John Petch Hewby, the noted whist authority, who has just died, was the son of parents, who never allowed a pack of cards to be brought in their house; and ex-Gov. St. John, the Kansas prohibitionist, has a son who has just killed his second wife after being divorced from his first because of drunkenness.

CLAUDE SPRECKLES, the sugar king, is realizing how sharper than a serpent's tooth it is to have a thankless child. His son, Gus, is suing him for slander because he affectionately referred to him in a newspaper interview as a bankrupt, who was trying to blackmail him, and that he would probably die in the gutter. Both are engaged in the sugar business, but all that is apparently saccharine is not nectareous.

SENATOR BLACKBURN, Gov. McCreary and Gov. Buckner were in Louisville together last week, but it is not stated that they pooled their issues in the Senatorial contest. With them it is every man for himself and the devil take the hindmost, which won't be Gov. McCreary, we verily believe.

OSCAR WILDE, the aesthetic and the pride of London society, is in jail exposed and disgraced. He sued the Marquis of Queensbury for libel, and had what was charged against him and more proven. The story of the trial as cabled across the sea is disgusting in its details, and shows the depravity which can sometimes be hid with a faultless exterior. Wilde has been potted and toasted by society, which could not do him too much honor, but he has completely lost out by the terrible exposure and there will be none so poor in the future as to do him reverence.

The supreme court, which has been in labor for some time on the question, will it is stated with absolute certainty, declare the income tax law unconstitutional, either in whole or in part. Especially it is said, will the court declare that all incomes derived from rents are exempted from taxation by the Federal government, and all incomes derived from State and municipal bonds are similarly exempted. Other objections will be cited and the law left in such a doubtful state that it can be easily picked to pieces by people able to take it to the courts.

The good citizens of Breathitt are determined that murder and lawlessness shall cease in that county. A man was but recently condemned to be hung there and his female accomplice sent up for life, and now comes Levi Cope with a rope around his neck. Less than ten days ago he killed William Combs. Saturday a jury found him guilty and fixed his punishment at death. When these two are hung the dark cloud of outlawry in that section will begin to lift and it will no longer be the synonym for crime.

JUDGE DURHAM, who is a bimetalist, but opposed to the free and unlimited coinage of silver, says that Gen. Hardin makes a "blunder" in his arguments for free silver and plainly shows that he does not know where he is at. The judge thinks that Clay will carry all the region round about Lexington and a sufficiency of the rest of the State to nominate him.

LEGISLATOR JONES, of Arkansas, and Gov. Clark had a scrap over bribery charges, when he expected in the face of the executive. The governor spat back and went for his pistol, but was disarmed, and both lived to wipe their faces. This is worse than school boys used to do in the dark ages.

COUNTERFEIT dollars are in circulation that have more pure silver in them than the genuine. And yet there are people who are going raving crazy for free and unlimited coinage of the white metal at the present ratio.

A NEGRO murderer was sent straight to heaven by the hempen line at La Grange, Ga., Friday. That is to say he said so. But such exparte statements are to be taken not cum grano salis, but with a barrel of it.

GEN. T. A. HARRIS, a distinguished Confederate, a schoolmate of Gen. Grant and Buckner and a devoted friend of Col. Welch, whom he has visited here repeatedly, is thought to be dying at his home in Jefferson county.

MISSINA, W. L. EVANS, of this place, L. R. Wharton, of Mitchellburg, J. W. Allen and W. S. Drye, of Hustonville, R. W. Lawton and W. J. Huston, of Louisville, formed a fishing party and went to the Cumberland at Williamsburg yesterday to spend a week.

Mr. J. L. BOSLEY will hereafter edit the Winchester Sun alone, his partner Mr. K. J. Hampton, having retired from the firm. He is a son of Mr. Jack Bosley, but is not a chip off the old block so far as politics is concerned. The old gentleman is a dyed-in-the-wool democrat. The son is a rantankerous, ring-tailed republican.

MR. AND MRS. J. S. OWSEY, JR., and James McElwain Owsley arrived from Franklin Saturday night and those who have seen the latter pronounce him as fine a youngster as ever raised his tuneful voice in tearful wail. They also say that the Commonwealth's attorney is about the awkwardest papa that ever attempted to amuse a cherub.

MR. LOUIS LANHAM, the new editor of the Lancaster Record, was here yesterday in the interest of his paper. The first issue under the new management shows that the young men know where "they are at" and we predict that the paper will grow in grace and favor. If good wishes go for anything, the INTERIOR JOURNAL's will avail and a hearty "God bless you, my children," will ever go with the boys.

MISS OLIVIA SUMMERS has been elected to fill an equal principalship of the "Pollock-Stephens Institute" at Birmingham, Ala., a large and flourishing school for young ladies, and has accepted. Miss Summers, who is kindly remembered by our people, is now filling a position in the faculty of a College at Pontotoc, Miss. We also hear that Miss Jennie Summers, who is taking a post graduate course in that institution, has captured the heart of a Southern gentleman and will become his bride in June. She is a pretty and lovable and numbers of young men here will envy the Mississippians good fortune.

THE little girl born to Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Bruce, died Thursday night, after brief existence.

If you want a suit of clothes that fits you like paper on the wall and as cheap as dirt, go to Shanks'.

I AM agent for the Excelsior Steam Laundry. Domestic and Gloss work done. C. E. Portman.

FOR RENT.—House, garden, all necessary outbuildings and three acres of grass land near toll gate on the Danville pike. A. D. Root, Stanford.

THE Lancaster tax rate has been fixed at 25c, just a third as much as we pay in Lexington. But, well—comparisons are odorous, as Shakespeare remarked on one occasion.

JOHN HADLASS, of Latrange, has been appointed stock claim agent, otherwise known as "cow coroner" for this division, with headquarters at Louisville, vice W. S. Jackson, resigned.

REWARD.—Gov. Brown has offered a reward of $150 each for the arrest and conviction of George Petrey and Joe Durham, the men thought to be guilty of the murder of old Mr. Apt.

THE Advocate says that "there are some symptoms of the free turnpike question having 'died-a-borning.'" We hope so. Now of all others is the most important time to urge such a step.

ON petition of tax-payers the Board of Equalization, which raised the assessment 10 per cent in this county, has agreed to open the matter again, and has fixed April 29 for them to show cause why the increase should not be made.

REAL estate must be on the decline in Somerset, if the following from the Reporter is correct: "Sam Hicks last week traded a four room cottage for a bicycle and another small consideration, R. G. Hall being the second party in the deal."

MIDDLEBORO will be a huge garden patch this year. Lots that cost several hundred dollars a foot are being fenced in and the vegetables that grow on them will be so overcharged with money that they will have a metallic taste.

THE stockholders of the Danville, Stanford and Crab Orchard pike elected the following directors Saturday: J. S. Owsley, Sr., J. S. Bosley, F. T. Logan, John Bright, J. H. McAlister and J. W. Guest. Afterwards Mr. Bosley was re-elected president and J. J. McRoberts, secretary.

THE city council has extended the time for the payment of taxes for 30 days before the penalty of 5 per cent is charged. The body will likely order the removal of all dirt producing and disease breeding causes along the course of the St. Asaph. The recent fine of $100 assessed by the circuit for permitting the stream to become a nuisance has waked the council up.

THE next session of the Central Ky. Medical Association will be held in Walton's Opera House, Thursday, 18th, beginning at 10 A. M. A number of doctors are on the program to read interesting papers and Secretary Steele Bailey tells us that Prof. L. Webster Fox and Dr. Joseph Price, of Philadelphia, will be the guests of the society and hold practical clinics in the hall.

SENT TO THE ASYLUM.—Mr. A. Camenisch, a well-to-do Swiss farmer of the McKinney neighborhood, was declared insane Friday and taken to the asylum by the Newlands, father and son. He got off before in 1892 and was sent to Lexington, but was all right in six weeks and was dismissed cured. He is an excellent citizen and hopes are entertained that his trouble is only temporary.

THE male seminary was closed down Friday and thereby hangs a tale. Some of the boys, who evidently wanted to go fishing and were afraid to play truant, conceived the idea of putting a mustela putorius in the school room. They carried it into effect and the result was most satisfactory to them. Prof. Duffy came, he smelt, he "absquatchulated." There was no school that day and next and many a little fish got the worst of it in consequence.

DEATH.—The burial of Sir Knight W. F. Henry at Lancaster Sunday was attended by the following Knights of Pythias from here: Messrs. L. M. Bruce, W. H. Wearen, Mark Hardin, A. G. Huffman, J. D. Wearen, R. Zimmer, C. E. Tate, Carroll Bailey, J. Meir, W. S. Burch, G. B. Wearen, A. H. Severance, J. M. Alverson, Robt. Bosley, Dr. W. B. O'Bannon and Joe F. Waters. Besides being a splendid member of the order, Mr. Henry was a most excellent gentleman and citizen.

If you want first-class cakes, biscuits and lightbread get Obelisk Flour from J. C. Florence.

Mrs. S. J. Emory found a kid glove with a gold ring in it that the owner can get by calling on her.

AN unusually large crowd was in town yesterday, but it seemed more on pleasure, than on business bent.

LINCOLN county will put in over 300 acres of tomatoes this year, the canning factories at Kingsville and McKinney having contracted for about that amount.

ADVERTISE.—Burch & Newland, general collectors, tell us that their advertisement in our last issue brought them $200.00 worth of work by the first mail. It pays to advertise.

THE prediction of a cyclone Saturday afternoon or night scared the weak nerved, but it did not materialize. The wind was very high, but did no damage.

JUDGE CARSON had a unique sign out yesterday. It was a man seated on a pony and holding out an advertisement of the cheap goods the judge had to sell. He made the whole thing himself.

WE want 100,000 lbs. of wool for which we guarantee the highest market price. 10,000 lbs. feathers, 100,000 dozen eggs, 10,000 lbs. hams and sides, all at the highest market price. Hughes & Tate.

THE Young Ladies' Aid Society set a splendid dinner yesterday and took in even $50. When we looked in upon them at 3 o'clock they were almost lifeless with fatigue after a hard day's work.

B. K. WARE's display of farming implements, from a twine binder to a horse cart, and carriages, buggies, &c., occupied a whole square yesterday and Mr. W. L. Withers did some lively hustling and talking.

THE Metropolitan National Bank, of Kansas City, which recently made its stockholders give up a third of their holdings to pay bad debts, declared a quarterly dividend of 1 1/2 per cent. April 2, on the reduced stock.

THE weather has been behaving in the usual April way, with showers and wind and sunshine playing short engagements. Yesterday was raw and showery and a pretty disagreeable day to be standing round on a court day. Fair weather is promised for to-day.

THE will of Mrs. Mary S. Shelby, wife of Col. Isaac Shelby, was probated yesterday in the county court. It appoints her son, Isaac Shelby, Jr., executor, and he qualified with his sisters and brothers as surety. The document occupies many pages and has a number of codicils.

BERULANS entered the store-house of L. G. Gooch at Waynesburg a few nights ago and got off with 100 pounds of bacon, 500 pounds flour and other articles, we learn from M. G. & J. M. Reynolds, who also told us that J. A. Lee's whisky warehouse burned and with it 1,005 gallons of whisky.

THE old residence of the late Jackson Givens was burned Saturday, during the high wind, having caught from a spark on the roof. It was a frame building and worth perhaps $3,000. Mr. Buford Wren, the tenant, saved most of his furniture. The property belongs to Mr. George Givens, who, we learn, had no insurance.

MR. A. T. MARTIN has secured 153 signatures to a petition to the post-office department to establish a daily route between Stanford and Kingsville via Saulsley, Highland and Pleasant Point. It would open up a good deal of territory to a daily mail and give us a certain connection with mails on the Cincinnati Southern.

THE $5,000 in Lincoln county bonds sold yesterday at from $513.50 to $521.50 for each $500, making a total premium of $187.25. J. J. Williams, of Vernon, got $500, S. H. Shanks, $500, H. S. Withers, $500, and a syndicate composed of J. S. Hocker, W. A. Tribble, J. H. Baughman and W. P. Walton $3,500. The bonds bear 6 per cent and are payable in 20 years.

THE new superintendent, Mr. W. S. Martin, accompanied by Train Dispatcher W. F. Sheridan and Master of Trains Roller, passed over this division Sunday in a special car on a tour of inspection. Mr. Martin was very much pleased with the condition of the road and its appurtenances and so expressed himself. All who met him were impressed with his business like air and suavity of manner.

MATRIMONIAL MATTERS.

—John Camden and Miss Joanne Eubanks were married at Mrs. Eliza Eubanks', near Waynesburg, Sunday.

CHURCH AFFAIRS.

—Rev. John G. Pond, of Kirksville, is 83 years old and his wife is 80. They have been married 63 years.

—The Southern Presbytery met in Lebanon yesterday. Rev. S. M. Logan and Elder A. K. Denny represented the church here.

—An Aitken Bible, the first Bible in the English language to be printed in America, was sold at Boston by auction Friday for $300.

—The late Miss Faithful Higgins left an estate of about $10,000 and willed most of it to the Missionary Society of the Christian church, says the Mayaville Bulletin.

—The revival services of Moody and Sankey in Texas are wonderfully successful. On one occasion, when it rained a perfect deluge, over 3,000 persons were present, most of whom were men.

—The Methodist church in New York refused to permit a young candidate to preach because he is afflicted with strabismus. Pretty good idea. A cross eyed preacher would be badly handicapped in the business.

—It is estimated that of the total sum raised for the support of the Protestant churches of this country, over one third is procured by the efforts or labors of women. A more correct estimate would be two-thirds, judging from our immediate vicinity.

—In the new Baptist Year Book, the total number of regular Baptists in the United States is given as 3,637,421. During the year the baptisms aggregated 205,857, which is the largest number ever reported before. The aggregate of contributions is $11,672,691.20.

—The Christian church at Hustonville has not yet accepted Elder W. L. Williams' resignation and it is more than probable that it will not. The old gentleman has been sick and was very feeble Sunday, but he preached a splendid sermon as usual notwithstanding.

—A crowd of about 2,000 people gathered on the Ohio river bank at Henderson Sunday to witness the baptism of 165 colored people, as a result of the protracted meeting held in the Big Bethel, or First Baptist church, of that city. The time consumed in baptizing the 165 people was just one hour.

—The Register tells of the sanctification meetings at Richmond held by Revs. Carradine and Pickett, which show that the scenes enacted there even discount those at the meeting here. A committee of the sanctificationists visited the saloons and endeavored to persuade them to shut up shop, but they failed to listen to the voice of the charmer, charm they never so wisely.

—After trying the free pew system for nine years St. Peter's Episcopal church in New York has abandoned it. The preacher explained the cause as follows: "There are religious vagabonds, ecclesiastical tramps, who go from church to church, criticising the music and sampling the preaching and enjoying the light and heat and comfortable seats, and who drop a cent in the box and look as if they were giving $5."
